MÉTAL 7 BECOMES AN ASSOCIATE MEMBER OF COREM

(Québec, October 26, 2016) – Ms. Claire Lavallée, CEO of COREM and Mr. Marc-André Gervais, CEO of MÉTAL 7 are proud to announce that Métal 7 is joining COREM as an Associate Member.

“We are truly happy to count on the expertise and experience of Métal 7 within our consortium. This partnership will definitely add value to our research program. It will accelerate the transfer of technological innovation, thus contributing to increasing the competitiveness of the mining industry” said Ms. Lavallée.

“Joining the membership of COREM is the logical continuation of the ongoing investments Metal 7 has made in research and development in order to offer our customers innovative products and solutions that meet evolving standards and needs of the mining industry. We are very pleased to join such a prestigious group”, said Mr. Gervais.

COREM is an industrial research centre specializing in mineral processing, combining the largest concentration of resources dedicated to research and development in this field in Canada. Located in the St-Malo industrial park in Québec City, it has equipment and facilities that include a pilot plant of 5,300 m² as well as mineral and mineralogy laboratories.
